

I am respectfully asking you to leave the current laws concerning solicitation phone calls as they were originally implimented. The current attempt to allow phone calls to persons said to be previous business relationships is a sham and an overt effort to skirt the original law stopping these pervasive nuisances to our privacy.